

FDT Group AISBL Public License

1. Scope of License

- a. The FDT Group AISBL (Licensor) having its principal place of business in Jodoigne, Belgium wishes to make available to the general public certain specifications, guidelines, object Files, assemblies, and best practices (the Works) through publication on the public web site of the Licensor and by other means determined appropriate by Licensor..
- b. Companies, organizations, or individuals (Licensee) accessing, possessing, using, or referencing the Works, agree to be bound by the terms of this licensing agreement (License).

2. Rights and Duties of Licensee

- a. Licensor grants to Licensee a non-exclusive, world-wide, perpetual, royalty free, no cost license for the use of the Works subject to the terms and conditions of this License.
- b. Licensor hereby grants to Licensee the right to use the Works exclusively for developing and supporting products compliant with the Works. Licensee may copy the Works for this purpose and for data backup purposes.
- c. Licensee shall not be entitled to modify, decompile, reverse engineer, or extract any individual parts of the Works, unless this is permitted by mandatory copyright law. Furthermore, Licensee shall not be entitled to remove any alphanumeric identifiers, trademarks, or copyright notices from the Works and, insofar as Licensee is entitled to make copies of the Works, Licensee shall copy them without alteration.
- d. Licensee shall not be entitled to publish, market, or distribute the Works. However, Licensee shall be entitled to transfer the right to use the Works granted to it to a third party, provided that Licensee concludes a written agreement with the third party in conformance with all of the conditions contained in the License and on the proviso that Licensee does not retain any copies of the Works.

3. Limited Liability and Limited Obligations of Licensor

- a. Licensor shall have no obligation to enhance the Works and shall assume no liability in case the Works or future versions thereof shall not be approved as an industrial standard. In the event Licensor chooses to provide enhancements to the Works, the Licensor is not obligated to notify the Licensee of the availability such enhancements. The Licensor reserves the right to modify the licensing conditions of future enhancements of the Works.
- b. Licensor is under no obligation to provide any type of support to the Licensee for the Works including, but not limited to, telephone, email, blog, written correspondence, updates, or source code.
- c. The Works are delivered free of charge "as-is". Any liability and warranty for the Works - irrespective of the legal reason therefore - such as to quality or title, its correctness, absence of defects, absence of claims of third party rights or in relation to its completeness and/or fitness for any specific purpose is excluded. Licensor is not liable for damages due to the use of the Works or for damages which have been caused by the design of hardware or software according to the information provided within the Works. Any liability for consequential, special or indirect damages including, but not limited to, loss of profit, loss of use and business interruption, regardless of the theory of law, are excluded.

- d. The aforesaid exclusion of liability shall not apply as far as there is a legally binding liability, e. g. under product liability legislation, in cases of intent, of gross negligence, of injury of life, body or health, or willful hiding of a defect, or due to violation of major contractual obligations. However, liability for damages arising from the violation of major contractual obligations shall be limited to the foreseeable damage normally covered by a contract, unless in cases of intent or gross negligence. No change in the burden of proof to the detriment of Licensee is involved by the aforesaid provision.

4. Use of Trademarks

- a. Except as provided in section 2.c, nothing in the License confers to the Licensee any privileges with regard to recognizable signs, designs, expressions or other trademarks that identifies products or services of the Licensor.

5. Nature of Relationship

- a. Nothing in the License confers to the Licensee any privileges with regard to stating, suggesting, or implying any type of relationship with the Licensor nor any type of endorsement or certification of the Licensee, or the product or services of the Licensee, by the Licensor.

6. Place of Jurisdiction and Applicable Law

- a. The sole place of jurisdiction shall be the principal place of business of Licensor.
- b. All relations arising out of the License shall be governed by the substantive law of Belgium, to the exclusion of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG).

7. Severability

- a. In the event any clause or section of the License is determined to be unenforceable by an authoritative court of law, the balance of the License shall remain in effect and interpreted within the original intent, and to the benefit, of the Licensor.

8. Entire Agreement

- a. The License shall constitute the entire agreement between the Licensor and the Licensee within the scope defined in Section 1 of this License. The License supersedes and replaces all other previously relative written, oral, expressed, or implied agreements in their entirety.
